Judy Garland's daughters, Lorna Luft and Liza Minnelli, to perform together at NY cancer benefits

Recovering from breast cancer, singer Lorna Luft has announced she will perform for the first time in 20 years with her half-sister, Liza Minnelli.

Luft and Minnelli, the daughters of Judy Garland, will appear for two "Pink Party" shows Oct. 14 and 21 at Birdland in New York City, according to Luft's Facebook page.

Other celebrities scheduled to perform include Ann Hampton Callaway, her sister Liz Callaway, Jim Caruso, Kelly King, Brian Stokes Mitchell and Marcia Strassman.

Call 212-221-7300, ext. 133, or email tickets@actorsfund.org for tickets. The events benefit the Phyllis Newman Women's Health Initiative of the Actor's Fund and Tower Cancer Research Foundation.

Details to come.
